

REFERENCING: THE HARVARD WAY

This is a general guide to using the Harvard Referencing System (also known as the name and date system). It is based on the British Standards. Many courses have their own convention for how to reference your work. If your tutor has given you guidance on referencing, follow that instead.

There are two parts to referencing: i) marking in your assignment when you are using another person's words or referring to another person's ideas (in-text referencing) and ii) listing the details of all these references at the end of your assignment. All references in the body of your assignment must match up with a full reference in your final reference list. This must include the information that your reader will need to easily find each work you are referring to.

The reference list at the end of your work demonstrates the depth of your research. It also acknowledges your sources of information which, together with your in-text references, protects you against the serious charge of plagiarism (passing off others' ideas as your own). Every quotation or mention of another person's ideas, theories or data must reference the source it is taken from. So keep records of all the sources you use in your work as you go!

REFERENCES WITHIN YOUR ASSIGNMENT

You can refer to the work of others in several ways within your assignment:

- 1. Short quote enclose in quotation marks within your sentence.
- 2. Long quote start on a new line, use single spacing and indent.
- Paraphrase put another person's ideas into your own words.

All of these must include a reference to your original source by inserting the author's surname, year of publication and page number(s) if appropriate within your sentence. If you have quoted (or paraphrased a particular short section) you should include the page number(s); if you are summarising a large section or the entire work, you do not need to include a page number.

EXAMPLES

Author surname appears in the body of your sentence – just add the year [and page(s) if appropriate] after the name where it occurs.

As Smith (2013, p.16) states, all resources must be referenced.

Author surname is not given within the sentence – include the surname, year [and page(s) if appropriate] in brackets at the end of the sentence.

It has been stated that all resources used to support your arguments must be included in your reference list (Smith 2013, p.16).

If your source has multiple authors, a corporate author or no author, see the table on page 4 for how to format these in your in-text references and full reference list.

REFERENCE LIST AT THE END OF YOUR ASSIGNMENT

This factsheet provides examples for common sources you are likely to use. If you use a source that is not covered, there are further examples on succeed@solent. If you still cannot find an example for your source, create a reference based on these general referencing principles:

- Author details (surname first) use a corporate author/ organisation if no individual is named
- 2. Year the material was published/created
- 3. Title details
- 4. Publication details where and by whom a document was published (not always given for electronic material)
- 5. Online access details for sources that may change please include web address and date you viewed it (you do not need to include online access details for electronic versions of academic sources such as books and journal articles).

>>

The reference list should be arranged in alphabetical order by author. If an author has written alone and with others, the solo works come first, followed by any joint works.

If an author has written more than one solo work, list them in date order (oldest to newest).

If an author has written more than one work in a year, you need to add a, b, c, after the year for each reference to differentiate them.

DOMINELLI, L., 2002a. Feminist social work theory and practice. Basingstoke: Palgrave In text: (Dominelli 2002a)

DOMINELLI, L., 2002b. Anti-oppressive social work theory and practice. Basingstoke: Palgrave In text: (Dominelli 2002b)

STYLE NOTE

This is Solent University's interpretation of the British Standard Harvard referencing style. Whatever approach you take, you must be consistent in the style of your references.

GETTING MORE HELP

For more information and examples of how to reference other types of publication, please see the referencing tutorial in succeed@solent.

If you need further help with referencing, please contact your lecturer or email referencing.support@solent.ac.uk

More information is available from books in the library's learning skills collection which is shelved at 029.65.

Please note that Harvard is a popular style of referencing but there are other styles you could use. Please check with your tutor as to which style you are expected to follow.

REFERENCES

BRITISH STANDARDS INSTITUTION, 2010. BS ISO 690:2010 Information and documentation – Guidelines for bibliographic references and citations to information resources. London: British Standards Institution.

CONTACT

Mountbatten Library Enquiries: 023 8201 3681 www.solent.ac.uk/library

ACADEMIC SOURCES (please see the referencing tutorial on succeed@solent for more examples)

Source	In-text reference examples	Full reference example
Books	(Johns 2014)	AUTHOR(S), Year of publication. Title . Edition (other than first). Place of publication: Publisher
	Johns (2014) has argued	JOHNS, R., 2014. Using the law in social work. 6th ed. London: Learning Matters
Chapter or essay in an edited book	(Busch 2001, p.23)	AUTHOR(S) OF CHAPTER, Year of publication. Title of chapter/essay. In: Editor(s) of book. Title of book . Edition (other than first). Place of publication: Publisher, pages
	As indicated by Busch (2001, p.23)	BUSCH, A., 2001. Unpacking the globalization debate: approaches, evidence and data. In: C. HAY and D. MARSH, eds. Demystifying globalization . New York: Palgrave, pp.21-48
Conference paper – as part of published proceedings	(Brandon 2003, p.39)	Follow the same format as for chapter/essay but include the date and place of the conference.
	Brandon has argued that "" (2003, p.39)	AUTHOR(S) OF PAPER, Year of publication. Title of paper. In: Editor(s) of book. Title of book . Edition (other than first). Place of publication: Publisher, pages
		BRANDON, D., 2003. Complex decision support in web time. In: M. KHOSROW-POUR, ed. Information, technology & organizations: trends, issues, challenges & solutions Volume 1, Information resources management association international conference, 18-21 May, 2003, Philadelphia. Hershey: Idea Group Publishing, pp.38-40
Journal articles	(Hodgkinson and Tilley 2007)	AUTHOR(S), Year of publication. Title of article. Title of journal , volume number(issue or part number), pages
	Hodgkinson and Tilley (2007) have found	HODGKINSON, S. and N. TILLEY, 2007. Travel-to-crime: homing in on the victim. International review of victimology , 14(3), 281-298

ALTERNATIVE SOURCES (please see the referencing tutorial on succeed@solent for more examples)

Source	In-text reference examples	Full reference example
Blogs	(Bradley 2008)	Blogs – include the web address and the date at which you viewed it (this is needed in case the web page changes and the URL is updated):
	Bradley (2008) has argued	AUTHOR(S), Year. Title of blog entry. In: Blog title . Full date of blog entry [viewed date]. Available from: URL
		BRADLEY, P., 2008. Word of the day is 'exaflood'. In: Phil Bradley's weblog . 29 April 2008 [viewed 9 May 2008]. Available from: http://philbradley.typepad.com/phil_bradleys_weblog/
Film or DVD/video	As seen in Macbeth (1948) Macbeth also	Generally cited by title as they are collaborative ventures:
	(From faking It to making It 2005)	Title, Year [material designation]. Subsidiary originator (if applicable, for example, director). Production details
	Include the year the first time you reference a film/DVD, after that the title is enough	Macbeth, 1948 [film]. Directed by Orson WELLES. USA: Republic Pictures From faking it to making it, 2005 [DVD]. Video Arts
Images and artistic pieces		Reference an image according to the SOURCE it was found in - such as a book, website, gallery. For an artistic piece, see the example below.
Image from print source	Radner and Stringer (2011, p.76) use the image	Printed images are usually found in books, magazines etc. Follow the example for how to reference a book, magazine article etc. as appropriate.
Image from electronic source	The photograph depicts (BBC 2019)	Electronic images are usually found on websites or in databases. Follow the example for referencing a website.
Artistic piece i.e. sculpture photograph, mannequin	Degas (1880) exemplifies the	ARTIST/CREATOR, Year. Title of work [material designation]. At: Location
		DEGAS, E., 1880. Dancing lesson [oil on canvas]. At: Williamstown, Massachusetts: Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute (no.562)
Newspaper and magazine articles	(Foreman 2005, p.2)	AUTHOR(S), Year of publication. Title of article. Title of newspaper/magazine, day and month, pages
	Foreman (2005, p.2) has identified	FOREMAN, J., 2005. Olympic cities brought to their knees by the games. Daily mail , 7 July, 1-2
Online reports	(Lawton 2007)	AUTHOR(S), Year of publication. Title . Place of publication: Publisher [viewed date]. Available from: URL
	This has been discussed by Lawton (2007)	LAWTON, A., 2007. Supporting self-advocacy. London: Social Care Institute for Excellence [viewed 24 June 2008]. Available from: http://www.scie.org.uk/publications/positionpapers/pp06.pdf
		Some web resources do not give all the details you would find in a printed resource. Just include as much detail as is available to help the reader locate your source.
Presentations and lecture notes	As stated by Brown (2014)	You are advised to use academic sources for your work, but if you wish to reference lecture notes or presentations you could follow this example:
		LECTURER /PRESENTER, Year. Title of lecture/presentation . Lecture/Presentation delivered to [course name, level #], date of lecture
		BROWN, P., 2014. The basics of Civil Engineering . Lecture delivered to HNC Civil Engineering, Level 4, 10th October 2014
Television or radio	(Mary, queen of shops 2007)	Programme title, Year [medium]. Channel. Date. Time [if necessary]
programme	As found by Woman's hour (2008)	Mary, queen of shops, 2007 [TV]. BBC2. 31 May. 21:00
	(2006)	Woman's hour, 2008 [radio]. BBC Radio 4. 23 June
		See succeed@solent for how to reference specific episodes of a series and on-demand programmes
Web pages including	(University of Staffordshire 2003)	Web pages – include the web address and the date at which you viewed it (this is needed in case the web page changes and the URL is updated).
YouTube and Lynda.com	Findings from the University of Staffordshire (2003)	AUTHOR(S), Year of publication. Title [viewed date]. Available from: URL
		UNIVERSITY OF STAFFORDSHIRE, 2003. Computers in teaching and learning [viewed 24 June 2008]. Available from: http://www.staffs.ac.uk/cita/welcomeframe.html
PDF documents	Many documents are made available as PDFs – this is the format for viewing the document. To reference it, work out what type of publication the PDF is. Is it a PDF of a book? Journal article? Conference paper? Report? You can then follow the reference style for the publication type.

SECONDARY REFERENCES – when referring to a source discussed in a text you are reading, reference the source you have actually read

Source	In-text reference examples	Full reference example
Secondary references	Shuell (cited in Biggs and Tang 2011, p.97) (Shuell cited in Biggs and Tang 2011, p.97)	BIGGS, J. and C. TANG, 2011. Teaching for quality learning at university . 3 rd ed. Maidenhead: Open University Press
	(Shack cited in biggs and rang 2011, p.31)

AUTHORS – MULTIPLE, CORPORATE AND MISSING AUTHORS

One author – surname comes before initial(s)	(Prentice 2008, p.45) Prentice (2008, p.45) has argued	PRENTICE, W.E., 2008. Essentials of athletic injury management. 7th ed. New York: McGraw Hill
Two or three authors – subsequent authors' initial(s) come before surname	(Smith, Stewart and Cullen 2006) Smith, Stewart and Cullen (2006) state	SMITH, F., R. STEWART and D. CULLEN, 2006. Adoption now: law, regulations, guidance and standards. London: BAAF
More than three authors – include first author and add et al . for others	(Harrison et al. 2005) The work of Harrison et al. (2005) shows	HARRISON, M. et al., 2005. Housing, 'race' and community cohesion. Coventry: Chartered Institute of Housing
Corporate authors – e.g. Organisations, Institutions	(Home Office 2001) The Home Office (2001) also suggests	HOME OFFICE, 2001. Policing a new century: a blueprint for reform. Norwich: The Stationery Office
No author - use Anon. Ideally use a corporate author instead	(Anon. 2004, p.21) As evidenced by Anon. (2004, p.21)	ANON., 2004. Social services year book 2004. 32 nd ed. Harlow: Pearson Education

USEFUL ABBREVIATIONS

Anon. anonymous

ed(s). editor(s) or edition

et al. and others (multiple authors)

n.d. date unknown

p. pagepp. pages

ibid. in the same book or articleop. cit. in the work already quoted

CONTACT

Mountbatten Library Enquiries: 023 8201 3681 www.solent.ac.uk/library

REFERENCING: THE HARVARD WAY